THE PICTURE on the front cover, is a snapshot of this year's freshmen entering upon their career at Fairmont State Teachers College. The picture, taken when they assembled in the College auditorium to receive their freshmen caps and insignia, reveals the look of wonderment upon their faces.

To College freshmen embarking upon this new life, a life far different from that of their high school days, it is little wonder that bewilderment creeps into their faces. Their thoughts become like a million twinkling stars shining in the blackest of night. Each newcomer begins his confused thinking with, "What is in store for me, in the coming months?", "Will I make the grade, socially and scholastically?".

Then the lowly freshman starts his College life. He becomes the target for those pointed remarks of, "Speak to upperclassmen, freshie," or "Stay off the grass, you're green enough," and last but not least, "See you in Freshmen Court."

Slowly but surely the day approaches when—freshmen rules are no more. They bid goodbye to those annoying caps and ties and pins, they begin to laugh, to feel at ease, and, as time passes, they begin to actually enjoy their life in an institution of higher learning.

Typical of thousands of freshmen students everywhere, those pictured on the front cover, are starting an experience that will, in a far distant day, be taken from the shelf of many-cherished possessions and clutched deeply in the memories of the past.

A DEDICATION

THE MEMBERS of the 1940 Mound Staff take pleasure in dedicating this MOUND to Miss Laura F. Lewis, in this, her golden jubilee year of teaching, climaxing fifty years of staunch and loyal service in the field of education, and marking the beginning of a much-earned retirement.

Miss Lewis began her teaching in 1890, teaching in the rural schools of Upshur, and later in Harrison, and Marion counties. After seven years in the rural schools, she came to Fairmont and graduated from the old Normal School in 1898, forty-two years ago. In 1907 Miss Lewis started her work in teacher-training institutions. She taught one year at Shepherd College at Shepherdstown, four years at Concord State College at Athens, and the other twenty-eight years, she has taught here at Fairmont State Teachers College.

During her college life here, Miss Lewis was instrumental in the beginning of what is now our Young Men and Young Women's Christian organizations. It was organized in 1896, and Miss Lewis was the first secretary of that organization. At West Virginia University, where she received her Bachelor of Arts degree in 1907, she was the first president of the Y. W. C. A. She was also a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma, national social sorority. Miss Lewis finished her work on her Master's degree at Columbia University in New York City in 1918.

Thus, to Miss Laura F. Lewis, who personifies everything that is fine in life, we bestow our kindest farewells. Because you wish to retire, Miss Lewis, we send with you, our sincere hopes for your happiness, security, and contentment, with the knowledge that you have nobly accomplished your mission in life.

Miss Lewis carrying out the work to which she has given her life.

Our beloved Miss Lewis who will live in the memory of her students forever.

STANDING proudly and nobly on the crest of its own magnificent mound the Administration Building of the college campus is the most impressive and picturesque in all of its knightly splendor. This mighty fortress of learning is one of the most beautiful and one of the loveliest spots in West Virginia. Like the great castles of old it stands sturdy and staunch—master of all. It is a creation of superior beauty, boasting of reflections from the olden days of chivalry and knighthood. It is a more modern interpretation of an ancient art, but in its transformation it loses none of its old glamour or grandeur.

THE high degree of efficiency and smoothness that Fairmont State Teachers College possesses is largely due to Dr. Joseph Rosier, president of the College. Dr. Rosier, a firm believer in democracy in education, has urged as well as permitted this motif to be the central theme on the campus. He has graciously been willing to step aside and let the Student Council have full sway in matters pertaining to student government. Although always on hand to offer assistance when assistance is needed, President Rosier sits patiently by their side and is content to let them exercise their fullest powers.

Dr. Rosier received his Bachelor of Pedagogy degree from Salem College, in 1895, and also received his Masters degree from there in 1915. In 1933, he received his Doctorate degree from Marshall College. Since the time Dr. Rosier finished his schooling, he has been actively engaged in the field of education. Beginning in the 1800's, when schools, and education were in their infancy, President Rosier began his work in the teaching field. First, as a teacher in the village school, he later became principal in the public schools of Salem, West Virginia. From 1893 to 1894 he served as superintendent of schools for Harrison County. He then taught in Salem College and in Glenville State Normal School.

DR. JOSEPH ROSIER ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

In 1897, he came to Fairmont, where he became superintendent of schools for Marion County, and where he later became president of this College, which position he has held since 1915. Dr. Rosier has not only been active in education, but he has also been widely associated with the affairs of the Fairmont Rotary Club, an international civic organization, and served as District Rotary Governor of West Virginia this year.

The Mound proclaims a tribute to a man of deserving eminence, and the President of our College — Dr. Joseph Rosier!

FACULTY ★ ★ ★ ★

THE MEMBERS of the faculty of Fairmont State Teachers College are carefully chosen and are well trained men and women. This group numbers more than forty and represents more than thirty colleges and universities from the Atlantic coast west to the Rocky Mountains.

It goes without saying that Fairmont, whose standing in the field of teacher-education is in the first six, has one of the best trained faculties of any college in the country. All of its members have attended more than one institution of higher learning and several have attended or studied at more than a half-dozen colleges and universities. Seven of the group hold doctorate degrees. The others have high educational aptitudes and bachelor of arts degrees and masters degrees. Several hold bachelor of science degrees, while the science instructors have their masters degrees. A cross-section of the faculty must include mention of the special study and post-graduate work done by every member throughout the years since joining the Fairmont group. Added to this continual study of the men and women of the faculty is their traveling experiences gained from trips made to Europe, Alaska, Mexico, Canada, and throughout the United States.

It probably can be stated without exaggeration that Fairmont's faculty takes part in more extra-curricular activities, are members of more professional groups and business clubs and have more appearances on speaking platforms than any other faculty of a college of the same size in the state. They are active in civic and social affairs and attend more educational meetings throughout the state, holding numerous offices and serving on committees each year in an effort to promote education in West Virginia.

Not only do the faculty members encourage participation of students in all activities but they set the example by doing so themselves. President Rosier considers it a teacher's duty to take part in civic activities. This is one method, outside the classroom, used in teacher-training work, the principal objective of Fairmont State Teachers College.

All teachers prepare their courses and present them with the sole purpose of helping progressive teachers. Thus the faculty, with Dr. Rosier setting the example, are training students to become more than teachers, they are endeavoring to make each graduate a progressive personality in his community.

CLASSES

Registration, classes, clubs and general campus activities blend together to make a composite picture of class life on our campus.

STUDENT ADMINISTRATION

Organized Student Activities play an important part in the development of the college youth. They encourage initiative, develop self control, promote leadership, and offer an opportunity for the expression and development of social intelligence.

Because of the demand for centralized control of student activities, arising from the growth of the student body and the increase in the number of student organizations, student government was inaugurated on the campus November 7, 1907 under the supervision of Dr. C. J. C. Bennett, president of the institution at that time.

The few years that mark the age of student government in our institution have witnessed a growing efficiency in its functioning, a greater harmony and closer cooperation in faculty-student associations, a pleasing development in the social attitudes of the students, a higher degree of self-sufficiency, and a manifestation of authoritative interest.

The organization of student government has endeavored to prove by its existence its indispensability to the progress of educational privileges. It is our earnest desire to develop our governmental facilities to the greatest degree of efficiency and cooperation, for, ever upward is the trend of evolution.

College Orchestra playing for annual graduation exercises.

FOUR YEARS have gone by and another class of Fairmont State Teachers College must bid farewell to its alma mater, which it has learned to love and cherish. Four years of experience which can never be lived over; four years of study and unforgettable memories. Many are leaving joyously, but with a certain tinge of regret; many will come back to the campus on short visits, but will never come back to enjoy its intimacies, such as have been enjoyed during the four years as a student.

This Senior Class has been outstanding and may its efforts be not wasted. This class, we hope, is one which may be followed and patterned after by others.

The class leaves, sincerely hoping the spirit and tradition of Fairmont State Teachers College will always remain with you wherever you may go, or whatever you may do. Best wishes, graduates, for success and other good things in life which you so richly deserve.

JUNIORS ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

The Junior Class of this year has proved itself to be a hard working, talented, and enthusiastic group. Darrell Smith, John DeMary, and Jeanne Burke each carried out in fine style the duties piled upon them as class officers. Austin Harper, also an outstanding athlete, will serve as student body president for next year. Other student body officers from this class are, the petite and capable Gladys McAdoo, Lorraine McConnell, who will again edit the Mound next year, and Martha Hudkins.

President of next year's class is Lloyd Bennett, active in music, dramatics, and journalism. Other newly elected officers are, Barbara Fankhauser, another petite who will also be president of Alpha Psi Omega, and Mary Agnes Borgman.

The two lovelies, Margaret Jane Ambrose and Jeanne Burke, were queen and maid of honor respectively at the Juniors' outstanding social event, the Junior Prom.

Athletes in the group are Sam Grake, Harper, Dave Rowand, and Louis Kaznoski.

Particularly outstanding for their work on the publications are, Bob Louden, business manager of the Mound; another petite, Kathryn Vennare and Betty Jo Wright, two hard working and talented journalists; and Richard Evick, sports editor of the Columns.

For a variety of good reasons, though we lack space to mention them, this list of outstanding Juniors would not be complete without at least mentioning the names of Martha Alice Gregory, Mary Powers, James Barr, Joseph Mahaffey, Bill Scott, Mary Lee Sullivan, Anthony Romano, and Joan Springer.

Registration under the capable supervision of Miss Lewis

THE CLASS OF '41 brings to an end its third year of success of college campus activities. Realizing that the end of our journey is near the class has gripped tightly the reins for the final dash.

During the past three years the class has excelled in many fields of activity. Athletics, dramatics and social functions have had the full support of the class. Always playing a leading role in social activities on the campus, this year the class sponsored its most outstanding event, in the form of the Junior Prom which was the highlight of the social season.

So with optimism the Junior Class looks forward to its most distinguished year upon the campus, in which it hopes to raise the standards and ideals of Fairmont State Teachers College.

The Sophomore Class of Nineteen Hundred and Forty-two feels that it has the makings of one of the best classes ever to attend Fairmont State Teachers College.

At the beginning of the year it sponsored the annual Dad's Day parade, game, and dance. Weather conditions were ideal for the day and the plans made by the class were carried out with great success in every way.

The class has been outstanding in many fields of activity during the year. Dramatics, athletics, and social functions have had full and cooperative support from the Sophomore group.

It is the earnest desire of every member of the class to aid in making Fairmont State Teachers College the best of the best.

The Sophomore Class of Nineteen Hundred and Forty feels that it has the makings of one of the best classes ever to attend Fairmont State Teachers College.

At the beginning of the year the class sponsored Dad's Day Parade, game, and dance. It was one of those days when the clouds threatened rain, but everyone went through without a catch. For this the class breathed easier. The day turned out very well and the dance was a fitting climax to the day.

The class has been outstanding in many fields of activity during this year including dramatics, sports and social functions and have had the full and cooperative support from the Sophomore group as well as the rest of the student body.

FRESHMEN ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

The Freshman Class of this year has proved itself to be one of the most talented and enthusiastic groups to enroll on the hill for many years. Robert Pence, Clyde Judy, and Mary Jean Charlton have fulfilled their duties as class officers in fine style. Pence, an outstanding athlete, has also proven to be a fine vocalist, and has appeared on many musical programs.

The entrance of this year's Freshman Class marked a new era in sport activities on the hill. More promising athletes entered this year than in many years past. Robert Conaway, Frank Belcastro, Carroll Kearns, Pence, and Rosseau McClung are a few outstanding athletes who performed for the Fighting Teachers. The Dramatics Department received its share of promising actors. Elaine Hutchinson and Barbara Hamilton received much praise for their work in this department. The other departments and social organizations have had greater success in their undertakings due to the outstanding Freshmen who have taken part.

THIS YEAR another group of Freshmen entered into the activities of Fairmont State College with the zeal that is somehow characteristic of Freshmen classes at Fairmont State. The time was very short before they made themselves known in every phase of college life.

After election of officers at the beginning of the year, the group soon became a well organized body. An easily adapted class, they performed all the functions expected of them.

Now, after a year of hard work, the Freshman class is fully accepted in all the circles on the hill. Members of this group will go on earnestly striving through their years at Fairmont State, hoping to conquer all obstacles in their path.

OUTSTANDING SENIORS ★ ★

Once Again, another of the many traditions of Fairmont State College has been observed and four members of the 1940 graduating class have been selected as Outstanding Seniors.

Each year four members of the Senior class are designated as "outstanding," their merits being based upon extra-curricular activities, scholarship and personality. From a class of 125 seniors, these four students are of those who have attained a high scholastic record and have participated in many extra-curricular activities.

Those receiving this honor for the 1940 class are: Mary Louise Morris, Elinor Barnes, Charles W. Dunell, and Loyal Jones.

Miss Morris was vice-president of the student body this year, business manager of the Mound, and was chosen Queen of the Court of Flowers last fall. She was also chosen as representative in "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges." Miss Morris is well known for her dramatic ability, and belongs to Alpha Psi Omega, National dramatics fraternity, Kappa Delta Pi, honorary educational fraternity and Alpha Delta Chi, social sorority. Still another honor was bestowed upon Miss Morris, when she was recently chosen to represent West Virginia in a College Queen contest, sponsored by Radio Guide in connection with Paramount Studios in Hollywood. Her picture appeared in a recent issue of Radio Guide.

Miss Barnes was president of Nu Alpha Phi, honorary French fraternity last semester, was president of the Social Science Club in 1938-1939, vice-president of Kappa Delta Pi this year. She is also a member of Pi Gamma Mu, honorary social science fraternity, Sigma Theta Rho sorority, and was selected as a representative in "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges."

Mr. Dunell was Editor-in-chief of "The Columns" this year, and had been active on the staff of the college newspaper for four years, serving as assistant business manager, news editor, and assisting managing editor. Mr. Dunell is a member of Pi Upsilon Phi, honorary journalism fraternity, and former treasurer of Zeta Sigma, social fraternity. He has served as student publicity writer in the journalism department for the last two years. He was also chosen as a representative in the "Bluebook of American University Men," for 1940.

Mr. Jones is a member of Kappa Delta Pi, Lambda Alpha Sigma, fraternity for lettermen, and Lambda Delta Lambda, honorary physics fraternity. Mr. Jones has been active in Athletic Council, serving as president for this year, and as football manager for the last two years.

These students were chosen by a committee of five faculty members and five students, appointed by Paul Riley, student body president, and sanctioned by the student council.

STUDENT BODY OFFICERS ★ ★ ★

Student Government occupies a high position on the list of activities at Fairmont State Teachers College. The Student Body is a self-governing organization with duly elected officers and representatives. Students control their own social and extra-curricular activities, and cooperate with the administration in all projects which are for the advancement of the institution.

For over thirty-five years the students at Fairmont College have had some form of self-government. As a result we now have a well-organized, efficient system which adequately administers student affairs. The Student Body is fully cognizant of the responsibility which the school administration has placed upon it, and labors unceasingly to justify that trust.

The inauguration of Leo Roberts, Dad's Day and the Y. W. luncheon typify campus activity; under the capable guidance of Dr. Rosier and the members of the faculty.

Queen Margaret Jane I.

ALL HAIL THE QUEEN!

Queen Margaret Jane I, a lovely and stately Queen! One of the most beautiful Junior Proms in the history of Fairmont State College was presented by the Junior Class of 1940.

Amid a completely transformed gymnasium turned into a throne room of real beauty, Queen Margaret Jane I, was crowned Queen of the Prom. A false ceiling and drapes of crepe surrounded the room where Her Majesty approached the flower-bedecked throne, there to reign over the gala festivities.

In pastel shades of spring gowns, the Queen's court presented an exquisite spectacle as they sedately entered the Queen's presence, and were met at the throne by their handsome escorts.

Carrying the traditional velvet crown cushion was Joseph Rhodes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Haddon S. Rhodes. Flower girl for the event was the small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Snyder, four-year-old Barbara Ann.

One of the most highly developed student governments in the state is to be found at Fairmont State Teachers College. Since its inauguration over thirty-five years ago it has grown stronger and more efficient in its functioning. The test of time has proven that it is a very desirable organization in a school such as Fairmont State.

In the years since its establishment, the student government has encouraged a close co-operation with the administration and faculty, and a higher degree of self-sufficiency.

It is our earnest desire to develop our student government to the highest degree of efficiency and co-operation.

IN presenting "You Can't Take It With You," comedy by Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman, The Masquers started their eighteenth season of dramatic productions for Fairmont audiences. This play introduced a great many new faces to Masquer audiences, and Mary Powers as the Mother and Doran Morrison as Grandpa turned in excellent performances in their roles.

Masquers next presented "Night Must Fall," in which Bob Hall climaxed his dramatic career at our college; followed by "A Woman's A Fool" (to be clever), a three-act comedy in which such seasoned players as Mary Louise Morris, Lloyd Bennett, James Barr, and Eileen Kurlich performed. Elaine Hutchinson, a newcomer, won acclaim for her work. Several one-act plays were produced during the year and the Masquers closed their season with a program of three one-act plays, in which casts from Wesleyan College, West Virginia University, and our college were represented.

This organization, more informally known as the Letterman's Club, was organized in 1935. It was organized by the young men who have been awarded school letters by the Athletic Council for their outstanding participation in athletics.

This organization was founded for a four-fold purpose: to interpret the purpose of athletics in Fairmont State College as it is recognized by the administration, to give awards for athletic service, to create higher social and academic standards among fellow athletes, and to bring the athletic department closer to the student body and the faculty.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

At the Beginning of the 1939 season Coach Colebank was faced with the problem of finding capable replacements for the players who performed the year before and had either graduated or had not returned to school. Despite the loss of these men, the local mentor had several numeral winners and a group of Freshmen who showed great promise of developing into first class ball players for the 1939 team.

Shortly after the start of the season the Freshmen began dropping from school, and the coach was forced to make other changes in his starting line-up.

The team as a whole averaged 168 pounds, with the line, which played stellar ball throughout the year, averaging 170 pounds. The backfield was comparatively light, averaging only 165 pounds.

With eighteen lettermen returning and a fine bunch of Freshmen material expected, the prospects for the 1940 team are very bright at the present time.

Head Coach Jasper H. Colebank started his sixteenth year at Fairmont State Teachers College when the call for football candidates was made last fall. Colebank starred in football, basketball, baseball, and track while he attended college. He received his degree from Fairmont State Normal School in 1926.

Assistant Coach Wilford (Squib) Wilson graduated from Fairmont in 1935 and took up his present duties at the beginning of school last fall. During his stay on the hill as a student Wilson starred in football, basketball, and baseball. He was on the All-Conference Football Team in 1934. "Squib" received his Masters Degree in Physical Education last summer from Columbia University.

Austin Harper, End, a Fairview lad who was not a regular in the first battle but later took over the right end position and did the punting for the Maroon and White in the remainder of the games. Harper will finish next year.

Mitchell Bodzek, End, from Farmington, held down the left terminal position for the second straight year and showed great improvement over his freshman year as a wingman when he was one of the bright lights on the Teachers' line.

Bob Barnes, Fullback, a hard plunger, played fullback for the locals and once Bob broke clear of the line of scrimmage it was hard to get him as was proved in the California game when he ran 70 yards for a touchdown after intercepting a pass.

Jennings Chriswell, Half, from West Side, proved his capability as a running mate to Captain Billingham and was the leading ground gainer for the footballer in his first year in college ball.

Sam Grake, Guard, hails from Shinnston and played four years at one of the guard positions despite his size. "Muss" proved to be 140 pounds of dynamite and stood out on many occasions by his fine play.

Bob Garrett, Tackle, played three years at tackle for the Colebankers and proved himself valuable to the team in more than one way with his valuable offensive and defensive work. Bob hails from Jane Lew.

John Tatta, Tackle, played capably at either guard or tackle which was proved by the fact that he was chosen by the coaches to a place on the all-conference eleven.

Don Doran, Tackle, a 190-pound lad who handled one of the tackle positions should go a long way in collegiate circles if his Freshman year means anything. Despite his weight Don was always the first down under the punts and tackled with great viciousness at all times.

George Ross, Guard, heaviest man on the Teachers' squad who played guard will serve as captain of the 1940 team. Despite his weight Ross proved himself invaluable with his fine play. Ross hails from Rivesville and should prove a fine leader for the 1940 team.

William Meyers, Quarter, a junior from West Side, did the passing and ran the team from his quarterback position last fall. Bill's number 77 stood out on the Teachers' defense and offense as he played heads-up football in every minute of every contest.

Leonard Walls, Center, another Fairview product, handled the center position like a veteran despite his light weight and acted as a balance in the Teachers' line with his stellar play throughout the year.

Captain Ed Billingham, Half, a senior who played four years of ball for the Teachers proved to be a capable leader and was leading scorer for the locals on the gridiron with 24 points to his credit. Ed prepped at West Fairmont.

THE SEASON IN REVUE ★ ★ ★

During the 1939 Football Season the Fighting Teachers of Fairmont State College won two games and lost six.

The first game of the year was played September 26 on the Rosier Knob field when the locals entertained the strong West Liberty eleven. When the final whistle had blown the score read West Libry 32, Fairmont 0.

The next contest was played under the lights at Marietta and the failure to convert the points after touchdowns cost the Teachers a victory as they fell before the Pioneers by 13 to 12 count. Passes from Bill Meyers to Billingham and Bodzek accounted for the Fairmont scores.

A 70-yard dash by Bob Barnes after intercepting a pass and the extra point conversion proved to be the margin of victory as the Teachers defeated the California (Pa.) Vulcans 7 to 6 in a game played on Rosier field.

At the annual Dad's Day game played October 21 the Teachers led by Captain Ed Billingham, who scored all the touchdowns, defeated the Shepherd Rams by a 20 to 0 score before a large crowd. Two of the touchdowns were on passes from Meyers.

The Colebankers tasted defeat at the hands of their ancient rivals, the Salem Tigers, in their next game by a 6 to 0 score. This game was played in the mud and the locals put up a stiff defense and forced the Salem eleven to score via the air route, after four goal line stands had been made by the Fighting Teachers.

The Glenville Pioneers were the next opponents and in a contest sprinkled with occasional fights between the players, the Gilmer Countians defeated the locals 27 to 8. The brother act of Bill Meyers to Frank Meyers combined to give the Teachers their six pointer. Frank did the scoring when he caught an aerial bomb thrown by brother Bill.

On November 10 the Teachers traveled to Athens to tangle with the Concord Lions but fate seemed against their chances of winning and they lost by a 14 to 0 count. The locals were constantly set back by the hard charging Concord backs and had to be content with being on the defense most of the time during the game.

The final game of the 1939 season took place on the Bethany field on November 18 and despite the fine work of the three seniors on the Teachers squad the Colebankers were defeated by a 27-0 score.

Robert "Bob" Pence was the keynote of the Teachers' offense as was proven by the 328 points he scored during the season. Pence, a Freshman from West Side, received honorable mention on the All-Conference team for his excellent playing.

Ed Billingham captained the 1939-40 team and proved to be a valuable man not only on the defense but on the offense as well. Holding down the forward position, Ed turned in a sterling brand of ball. This was Ed's fourth year of College basketball.

Blaine Ankrom, the only other Senior on the team, did not play the full year but during his playing days proved himself to be a fine shot and an adapt defensive man. "Ank" played the privot position on the court team.

Robert "Bob" Conaway, another first year man, was the defensive man of the locals and was given honorable mention on the All-Conference Team. Besides being tops on the defense, Conaway was an excellent shot from his guard spot.

Rosseau McClung, the younger of the two brothers playing his first year of college basketball, fitted perfectly into the Teachers set-up, and although not a high scorer, "Bub" teamed with Conaway to put up an air-tight defense.

Churchill McClung, Bub's big brother from Webster Springs, used his height to great advantage at forward and proved invaluable to the Colebanker's cause many times throughout the season. Churchill is a Sophomore.

Frank Belcastro, the smallest man on the squad, was a good shot and a fine defensive man despite his size. Frank was another of the first year crop around which next year's team will be built.

John Tatta, a Sophomore, playing at guard was a dead shot when he stepped up to the foul line, and during the season scored most of his points in this manner. Tatta played in the role of a substitute most of the year.

Jack Miller, another product from West Side High School, played at center and proved his worth by being next to Pence in the number of points scored during the 22 game grind.

Jack Coulter saw little service but proved to be a hero when he scored five points in the closing moments of the second Davis-Elkins battle to bring victory to his team.

Walter Owens, a left-hander from Clarksburg, was another who saw little service but his playing proved that he would be of great value to the court teams of the future.

Charles Gocke, a guard, saw the least service of any member of the squad. During the time he did play he proved to the others that he had the makings of a great defensive man.

THE SEASON IN REVIEW ★ ★ ★ ★

The Basketball Team which represented Fairmont State during the 1939-40 season won nine and lost thirteen during the twenty-two game grind on the court.

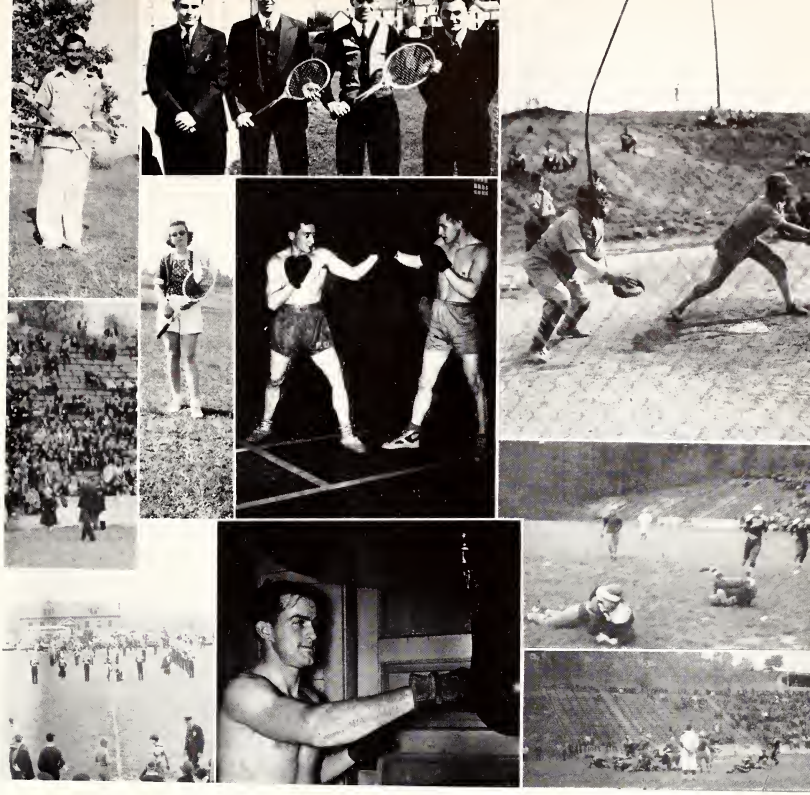
Victories were chalked up against Shepherd, Davis-Elkins, West Liberty, Bethany twice, California (Pa.) twice, Concord, and New River, while they lost two games to Wesleyan, Glenville, Waynesburg, Salem, and Alderson-Broaddus, and lost singles games to West Liberty, Marietta, and Davis-Elkins.

The highlights of the past season was when the Teachers defeated the Davis-Elkins Senators by a 71 to 68 score. Although Bob Pence snagged scoring honors for the evening, the real hero was Jack Coulter who sparked the local's attack after the offense had bogged down considerably. Coulter swished the net with five points in the last two minutes of play to lead the Colebankers to victory.

During the season the Teachers averaged 52 points a game as they scored a total of 1153 points during the entire season. Their opponents scored 1293 points for an average of 56 points a game. The locals scored a total of 451 field goals and 251 out of 407 fouls for their 1153 points.

Pence, Freshman star forward, was top scorer with 139 double-deckers and 50 free throw conversions for 328 points. Jack Miller, another Freshman, was next to Pence with 216 points.

The rest of the players and the number of points scored are as follows: Billingham 152, Ankrom 126, Conaway 87, Belcastro 89, C. McClung 77, R. McClung 42, Tatta 17, Bodzek 12, Cummings 8, Coulter 7, Walls 2, and Owens 1.



TENNIS TEAM ★ ★ ★ ★

The Tennis Team of Fairmont State although not as active as in other years played several games and turned in several wins. This phase of athletics is rapidly gaining recognition as a sport on the campus and before long will take its place as such. The tennis team is under the supervision of Dr. C. A. Lindley.

Fairmont State Teachers College

This institution is centrally located in a populous section of West Virginia. It is convenient to the homes of a large number of young men and women who are offered superior educational advantages. This college provides the following advantages which should be carefully noted by young people in northern West Virginia seeking higher education:

1. It has a faculty of highly trained and experienced men and women.
2. It has a large library of well selected books.
3. It has a modern well equipped Science Building.
4. It offers unusual opportunities for student activity and participation.
5. It has a rich and educative social life.
6. It provides higher education at moderate cost to the student.
7. Its graduates rank high in the field of teaching and at other institutions.

The cooperation of graduates and students in building up our college is requested. If our graduates believe the above statements they should impress them upon their friends who are choosing a school. For information write to Joseph Rosier, President.

READY TO SERVE!

After years of study these gradnates of F. S. T. C. are ready to pass their knowledge and service on to other members of society. To be successful they must continue to develop. This reminds us of our business. We must constantly study our business, give better service, help everyone to find new, more efficient uses for our service.

Photography of Merit

To bring to memory's moment a delightful yesterday—
To warm the heart of distant friends—Your Portrait—simply done. But the You of You—It means our best when we inscribe your moment's mood . . . The faith of high ideals and good workmanship.

Originality is a quality of the imagination. It is the ability to take the usual elements of picture and story and present them to your student body in a new, different and interesting fashion. Our School Service organization has long been noted for its true originality in Year Book planning.
